

Today

Even the Stock Exchange
Still the Wonder Grew
Wanted, More Dollars
Yellow Paper, or Green?

By Arthur Brisbane

WE LIVE IN DAYS of revolution, reform, repentance and searching of souls.

Nothing like it in nature, except an old-fashioned Baptist revival meeting in Jackson school house, Fannwood, N. J., when one farmer after another would arise and say, in trembling voice, "I love Jesus, brethren, pray for me."

Today, even the New York Stock Exchange is on the mourners' bench, saying, "I love Franklin D. Roosevelt, and I am going to be a better boy." The "big exchange," hitherto hard boiled and defiant, turns good of its own accord, and brings forth a series of "I shall not" that will do your heart good.

Thou shalt not lead the little gambler into temptation. Account of little gamblers, who cash involved not more than $5000, must be margined at least 50 per cent. No gambling on a shooting. Bigger accounts must be margined at least 30 per cent.

Thou shalt not go into the tobacco and byways. Brokers may no longer "ring you up" and tell you that your chance of a life is gone, unless you buy P. D. Q. NOW. You may not have "customers" men, drumming up trade, wherever they know there is a loose dollar.

Gentlemen and ladies that wish to "go broke" in stock gambling must come themselves and offer up savings, of their own free will. The above and other rules, to make the "exchange" less of a gambling joint and more of a business institution, are made by the Stock Exchange authorities, of their own free will. Critics suggest that the super-gambling in Washington must have been active, but there is nothing to prove this.

The United States government is determined to make kidnapping dangerous for the kidnappers, and will carry on a relentless crusade against that and other gangster forms of crime.

In the fairy story, when something pleasant happens, the good fairy is always back of it, and so, it is in modern government.

The administration good fairy, Professor Money, is in charge of the anti-kidnaping campaign. You consider how many things that man knows, and two lines come back to you:

And still they said, and still the wonder grew
That our small hand could carry off all he knew.

As it happens, Professor Money, before becoming a good fairy, had specialized in crime prevention, and no better man could have been chosen to worry the kidnappers.

The French government, adding 10 per cent to tariff charges on goods from America, explains that our cheap dollar makes it necessary. Why you should tax more heavily goods brought with cheap money is not clear to American shoppers.

Perhaps 25 per cent added to tariffs on French goods, "because the franc is so expensive," would balance the situation.

By the way, when will that "deflated dollar" become more plentiful? No N. R. A. or other plus device or hope will bring prosperity. TO STAY, until dollars become easier to get.

The government borrows $850,000,000 with wonderful ease, and that is called a debt. It is nothing of the kind. Bonds are bought eagerly by those that do not want to put their money in payrolls or business enterprises. After the taxpayers have paid interest on those bonds for 10 or 20 years, they will know that a debt is a debt.

To go off the gold basis, and to make the dollars as scarce as diamonds, says to the little employer, "You go ahead and make a Heaven on earth, and I will turn out to be good magic, but it is puzzling to many."

If the government had issued and distributed $850,000,000 worth of perfectly good, new green dollars "off the gold," putting that amount into circulation instead of going out and borrowing $850,000,000 and cutting down the available cash supply, it would have shown its intelligence.

They lead millions a year more on the taxpayers, discouraging business, when you could pay your bills with new money, and save the interest? IS THE GOVERNMENT'S NAME AND GLORY ANY BETTER ON A YELLOW

$38,000,000 for N. E. Shipyards

$26,000,000 CODE LEADER FOR QUINCY CONTRACTS

Building of Two Naval Vessels Awarded to Boston Navy Yard

Naval construction totaling more than $38,000,000 was awarded New England shipyards by the Navy Department today, according to Associated Press dispatches from Washington.

This work will be done in private yards. In addition, confirmation was given of the awarding of the construction of two destroyers to Boston Navy Yard and construction of two submarines to Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard.

Following are the contracts awarded private shipyards in New England:

Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy—heavy cruiser—$11,720,000.

Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy—light cruiser—$11,720,000.

Both Iron Works, Bath, Me.—2 light cruisers—$6,830,000; 2 submarines, $5,540,000.

The contracts mean that within a short time, greater prosperity will have been returned to the shipbuilding industry in New England than has been known since the World War.

At the same time the contracts were announced, the Navy Department also made known that all private shipyards doing government work, a five-day week of 40 hours would hereafter be in force for all civilian employees.

Pay will now be on the basis of five days wages for a five-day week. This will replace the present system whereby workers receive six days pay for a five and a half day week.

The light destroyers ordered for the Boston Navy yard, officials said it will be awarded construction of two additional destroyers.

Already there are signs of increased activity at the yard in Charleston. There are 1000 civilian workers employed there, a considerable increase over the number employed at this time last year.

The light cruisers of 1850 tons each will be built at Quincy, can be constructed immediately, as the money is now available.

1500 HATTERS STRIKE FOR CODE HOURS
Danbury, Ct., Aug. 3 (INS)—Demanding a 40-hour week and the 1929 scale of wages, 1500 union hatters in nine of this city's hat factories went on strike today. The strikers asserted that despite the NRA code they are working on a 44-hour schedule.

Today's Testimony

Salem Courthouse, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Jessie Costello, refreshed by a long rest, resumed the stand today at the opening of court and detailed the dramatic incidents of the day her husband died of cyanide poisoning.

Jessie launched at once into the story of finding Costello's body.

"Bill lay there looking just as my baby boy had looked when he died," she said, the tears running from her flashing eyes. "I knew he was dead... I turned and fled down the stairs."

Mrs. Costello appeared refreshed after the half holiday yesterday and answered in a brisk tone the questions put to her by Atty. Clark.

Q—Did you usually do the work of cleaning the boiler yourself?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Was there anything else you used the composition for? A—

STOCKS HIGHER LATE IN DAY

New York, Aug. 3.—Important shares were mostly higher in late trading today. Early setback of one to more than 3 points were replaced by like advances in a number of pivotal values. Trading was quiet.

Following announcement of award of big U. S. Navy contracts, Bethlehem and New York Shipbuilding rose more than 2 points.

Interest in Rand was up on points. "Wet" shares and rails were conspicuous in rallying periods.

The afternoon market appeared to be shaking off in good form early hesitancy caused by attempts to interpret the new stock exchange curbs on speculation, including increased margin requirements.

Two Boats Rescued as Boat Overturns

Two West Medford youths, Ernest Wilson and John Gray, were saved from drowning in Mystic Lake, West Medford, early today when their motor-boat turned over.

They were rescued by Frank E. Morse of Broadway, Malden, who was cruising in his boat and heard the cries for help.

Thompson's Replies to Receiver Action

Officers and directors of Thompson's Spa, Inc., today filed denials to the allegations of Emory H. Masters of Quincy, Mass., who has asked that a receiver be appointed.

Among other things they deny that Masters is now a stockholder.

March of Sorrow

'I DID NOT KILL BILL. LOVE HIM. WIDOW SOBS IN FIERY GRILL'

SECOND DAY OF JESSIE'S STORY

1—"I did not kill my husband—I loved him," Jessie Costello sobbed on the witness stand during the second day of her testimony ordered at Salem today.

2—"He lay there still and white—like my baby had laid when I found him, and I knew that Bill was dead," she said, the tears raining down.

3—"Capsules? Yes, I bought capsules a year ago last March for Mrs. Bisson," she said spiking the State's big coup.

4—"McMahon—he was only a friend; I was only interested in him," she said, fire in her eyes. "He never made an improper proposal to me, and I most certainly was never intimate with him."

5—"Mr. McMahon's story was not the truth," she told the jury. "I never was on Hog Hill with any man but my husband."

6—State's attorneys grilled Mrs. Bisson in secret today over the protest of the defense.

Salem Courthouse, Aug. 3.—The State tried in vain to break Jessie Costello on the witness stand today after she had cried a denial of husband murder and a tearful protest that it was Bill Costello—not Edward J. McMahon—who had her love.

Her own story of the cyanide death of her husband, containing her explanation of two of the most important of the state's accusations, was ended shortly before noon and therefor, pert, glib and voluble in her answers, she calmly resisted every effort of Dkt. Atty. Hugh A. Cragg to trip her up in her denial of "Kiss-and-Tell."

McMahon's confession that he was her reluctant paramour.

Her direct examination by William G. Clark came to an end with two dramatic questions and two sobbing answers.

of other companies during the past few days.

The Colonial Reunion Oil Co., which has 2000 employees of whom, 1350 are in New England, sent four representatives to headquarters at 40 Federal st. to notify Butler of their plans.

REASON OF LINE

These representatives are D. L. Ferguson, a member of the board of directors and in charge of the manufacturing division, J. A. Doyle, in charge of marketing and sales, W. L. Greene, assistant to the New England manager, and C. K. French, manager of the personnel department.

The executives of the company are adhering to President Roosevelt's national recovery plan with the greatest enthusiasm, they said. "We have been observing what is equivalent to the blanket code, a five-day and six-hour week, since July, 1932," said Manager French.

"We have not cut our force or reduced the pay of our employees."

The company has always allowed collective bargaining and has an additional fund of $100,000. Incidentally, when the five-day week was adopted last year, we added 500 men to our payroll.

In the refining division the six-hour week has been in effect since last October. Under the blanket code it will be necessary in the refining division to cut down to 35 hours a week, with the option of working a five-hour week for six months until December 31.

SHOE COMPANIES SIGN

There is very little readjustment necessary because of the fact that we adopted the shorter week a year ago. As soon as the all industry code is adopted, the Colonial Reunion Oil Co. will adhere to that.

The L. Douglas Shoe Co., with 125 retail stores of which 25 are in New England, signed up under the blanket code today for the retail division. The manufacturing division awaits the shoe industry code which is shortly to be adopted. The George B. Smith Co., Inc., of Brockton, also signed up today, for its retail Walker division.

Approximately 25 manufacturers in Haverhill, chiefly of novelty shoes, and nine leading shoe manufacturers in Lynn besides some smaller ones also in Lynn sent their pledges in today, without waiting for the special industry code.

24 P. C. PAY RAISE

More than 500 men in the 22 cap manufacturing shops in Boston beginning today will receive a 25 per cent increase in wages and will operate on a 34-hour week in compliance with the president's blanket code.

This announcement was made today through Samuel D. Bosch.

FLAMES SWEEP DOVER (N. H.) CITY HALL

Firemen had a hard battle in stopping the blaze which caused damage, estimated at more than $100,000, in the Dover (N. H.) City Hall. At one time flames burst out in the high tower. The smoke hampered the work of the firemen. Aid was called from a number of cities and towns in the near vicinity. Every effort was made to save a safe in the city treasurer's office, which contained a large sum of money. (Boston American photo.)

ORGANIZATION BEGINS FOR U. S. BANKING POWER

Codes Revised to Aid Banks and Other Businesses

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—Mobilization of the buying power of the nation was under way today as the next big step in the recovery program.

Preparations are being made to launch a campaign throughout the nation to utilize the spending ability of those who have any, backed up by the new-made dollars of those whom it is hoped to add to the payroll before the snow flies.

The latter phase is getting underway as committees in state and local communities organize.

Stimulating the employment drive, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, passed the terms of the blanket code to a larger group, as he had done earlier for the retail food and chain stores.

BANK CODE KASED

The effect was an immediate signing by approximately 20,000 banks and other lending institutions, pending adoption of formal codes of a group of major industrial manufacturers, including electrical, radio, and a number of textile manufacturers.

Worse than the code of the garment code, success of which will mean, according to R. Kennedy, Troy, N. Y., manufacturer, employment of 60,000 to 80,000 additional workers.

It was a promise the petroleum code will be completed, after threatened difficulties, upon the basis of the code of the oil industry, for prior fixing was brought to bear through Gen. "Al" Murray of Oklahoma, F. P. Walsh of the consolidated Texas railroad commissioner, and others.

OIL CONTRACTS HELD UP

J. F. Faulkner, of Baltimore, representing filling stations, urged abolition of the leasing and licensing system. At this point it appeared the committee were ready to leave decision to the federal trade commission. If that body does not set within 60 days, Johnson will submit a code of provision in whatever code is finally adopted.

Meanwhile new contracts under the present system will be banned until revised contracts under one year will be allowed.

Under exclusive oil, the wool textile code will become law Aug. 14. It establishes a minimum wage of $14 in the north and $13 in the south for a 40-hour week, with no exemptions for less than 40 hours. Forty-three per cent of those now engaged in the industry, it is estimated, are now receiving less than the prescribed minimum wage, an estimated 100,000 men. The new code will add approximately $100,000 a week to payroll, as the average is now $12.40 a week.

$17,000 MORE IN PAY

Approximately 27,000 additional workers will be created in the shorter work hours. Their added wage, under the minimum allowed, will amount to $17,000 a week, besides the increased amount of the payroll, making total increase of $475,000 a week.

Agreement was near on hours and wages involved in the coal and oil pipe industry.

MRS. LONG

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP)—Threats to kidnap the wife of Edward J. O'Connell, prominent Democratic leader, or one of the three O'Connell brothers, uncles of the kidnapped John J. O'Connell Jr., were reported to have been received by the family.

The O'Connells said to have been responsible for the heavy guard maintained at the mountain camp of Dan O'Connell, where several members of the family are staying.

Police and private guards, armed with rifles, patrol the O'Connell camp, 20 miles from the city. Young O'Connell was returned to the camp last Sunday morning after a 24-day captivity in New York.

It was understood that the match book, signed by the revolutionaries, had been given to the O'Connells, and the knowledge that the O'Connells had been in the hands of the authorities sought to silence the youth and his uncles with threats.

The O'Connell brothers are Ed and Dan, uncles of John, and John J. Sr., father of "Buck" O'Connell. It was reported that an arrest would be made if the O'Connells did not agree to the release of the man named Street, intermediary has been held in custody for questioning. His son, John O'Connell, was ordered picked up.

WOMAN GUILTY OF PLOT ON BARTON

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—Found guilty of attempting to extort $50,000 from Bruce Barton, advertising executive and author, Mrs. Frances W. King will be sentenced in General Sessions tomorrow. A jury returned a guilty verdict against her last night after eight hours deliberation.

The maximum penalty facing Mrs. King is 15 years imprisonment. In her summation, Charles P. Ladd, assistant district attorney, pointed toward Mrs. King and said: "This little middle-aged woman who is sitting only to defend her name, is the one who plotted the extortion of $50,000 from Bruce Barton, the man who takes the stand and subject themselves to cross-examination and admit their mistakes, who keep women of this type from going on forever. He is to be commended. While he sat on the stand and was cross-examined, Mrs. Barton, his wife for the past 20 years, listened and by her presence forgave him."

Referring to an situation out which Hugh Rodgers King, former husband of the defendant, brought against Barton and which Barton settled for $25,000, the prosecutor asserted: "That, too, was a shaken-down."

CAT WINS THE GOLDFISH

New duties have been assigned to Patrolman Joseph Tully, who guards the office of Supt. Michael H. Crowley. He has been instructed to watch "Toodles," the police headquarters cat. Recently five goldfish have disappeared from a bowl in the "super" office. Now the cat's racket is at an end, for Patrolman Tully must keep a watchful eye at all times. (Boston American Photo.)

Unidentified Man Suicide Near Beach

An unidentified man committed suicide by shooting on the grass reservation skirting the Rindway near Carson Beach, South Boston, last night. He was about 40 years of age, five feet eight inches tall, weighed 150 pounds and was dark complexioned. He wore a blue striped suit, a light cap, a black and white tie, low shoes and black socks.

CHANGE IN WIND BREAKS HEAT

The weather man took a bow today for predicting the end of the heat wave which evaporated early this morning, right on schedule, under the influence of a northerly wind, which later changed to north-east.

Pearly cloudy skies will help keep the temperature down and showers are probable this evening. The temperature today ran 10 to 15 degrees under that of yesterday, when the maximum was 90.

After 2000 Years China Names Rulers

Peiping, China, Aug. 3 (AP)—China entered a new era of popular municipal self-government today with the inauguration of the first city council in Peiping. This is the first time in more than 2000 years, it was said, that the common people of China participated in choosing their rulers.

Barnsdall Official Dies

Greenwich, Ct., Aug. 3 (AP)—Robert Law, 68, chairman of the executive committee and a director of the Barnsdall Corporation, died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage last night in an automobile while returning with members of his family from the Indian Harbor Yacht Club.

'Toodles' Silent as Super's Goldfish Disappear

Two vacations and the acquisition of a new cat at police headquarters provided the background today for a deep-seated mystery right in the office of Supt. Michael H. Crowley.

Summed up, the mystery concerned the shrinkage of goldfish in the office of the "Super" from 14 two weeks ago to 11 at the present time.

YOUTH HELD IN COURT HOLDS FIEND KILLING FIRM LIABLE

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 3 (AP)—Philip Charles Edwards, 19-year-old high school graduate, was held in jail today as a suspect in the mutilation murder of seven-year-old Dalton Aphosian while police checked the closing episodes of his story of the crime.

Edwards first told his story to detectives in Los Angeles where he was picked up as a loiterer Monday and reported it when brought here. The youth told officers that he met Dalton on a downtown street shortly after noon July 18, the day the boy disappeared.

With candy, sandwiches and ice cream, officers quoted Edwards as saying, he coaxed the boy to go for a street car ride with him. At the end of the car line, Edwards offered the boy a ride in his car, he lived "over the hills," and they set off toward the brush-covered woods. There he hit the boy with a rock, according to his story, and left the body until after dark, when he returned in a stolen automobile and took it to the water front.

Edwards said he mutilated the body with a butcher knife at the waterfront, threw it in the bay and placed several persons in a quart jar and threw them in, too. Deeds furnished by the navy were to search the spot today.

'GANG FRIENDS' LOSE U. S. JOBS

Chicago, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said in special dispatch from Washington today that three officials had been ordered suspended at the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary following disclosure that Terry Druggan, Chicago "hooch baron," had been frantically prison customs.

The three men suspended, the paper said, are Captain James A. Grady, Guard Lester M. Wheeler, and Sergeant Edward J. Druggan, a former man of automobile.

Warden Lister, director of the Bureau of Prisons at Washington, it is said, had asserted the trio had admitted making Druggan's stay in prison a pleasant one.

Druggan, serving a two-year sentence for evasion of paying an income tax of $33,000.

Druggan, on one other occasion, was involved in charges that he was receiving unusual privileges while a prisoner. That was while he and his partner, Frankie LaSalle, were serving a term in the Cook county jail for contempt of court.

As a result Sheriff Hoffman and Warden Wesley Westbrook were forced to resign and were sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

Somerville Couple to Wed in New York

New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—John A. Holmes, Jr., an editor of Millingham at Somerville, Mass., and Miss Sara P. Ludlow of the same address obtained a marriage license here.

Another license was issued to Charles J. Berninger, 50, a retired army officer of New York and Miss Amy A. Kohler, 34, of 42 Jefferson ave., Danbury, Ct.

Watch Out for Wink in Poor Ben's Eye

Philadelphia, Aug. 3 (AP)—Benjamin Franklin's portrait appears to be giving you the wink from a $100 bill, beware.

For Capt. William H. Houghton, chief of the United States secret service in the Philadelphia district, said this is the "tip-off" on a new batch of counterfeit $100 bills.

'Toodles' Silent as Super's Goldfish Disappear

Two vacations and the acquisition of a new cat at police headquarters provided the background today for a deep-seated mystery right in the office of Supt. Michael H. Crowley.

Summed up, the mystery concerned the shrinkage of goldfish in the office of the "Super" from 14 two weeks ago to 11 at the present time.

"Toodles" was adopted sure enough but she did not seem to relish the tiny bits that were thrown her way by either the day or night shifts at the police building.

Milwaukee Leader Backs Hearst 'Golden Era' Call

By EUGENE WARNIMONT, Chairman of the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 3 (U.S.)—William Randolph Hearst points out, in his editorial, "The Close That Lays the Golden Era," the battle against the greatest depression the world has ever known must be undertaken cooperatively by employer and labor.

Indian War Masks of Wood Dug Up

Falco Pass, Alaska, Aug. 3 (AP)—Discovery of ancient Indian wooden armor, war masks and paddles of huge war canoes used by the early Aleuts was reported by Father Bernard Hubbard, "The Glacier Priest."

His expedition uncovered the finds in the ocean caves on an uninhabited volcanic island in the Aleutian chain. The implements were buried beneath fallen rocks and earth.

Today, in the east column of the classified ads, you will find some of the possibilities for profitable investment.

SOMERVILLE TO ACT ON PLANT

Somerville's tussle with the problem of rendering plants will resume tonight at a meeting of the aldermen in that city and with a peculiar situation presented by Alderman Percy R. Crowell.

Although he is opposed to rendering plants in the city, Alderman Crowell, one of six who have announced candidacies for mayor, said today he would favor a proposed new plant but only for those which are strictly of Somerville interest.

Petitions of both Somerville and "outside" interests are due for discussion at tonight's meeting.

ROOSEVELT IN HOME LOANS CONFERENCE

Hufo Park, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP).—Administration of the new securities and home loan refinancing acts gained attention of President Roosevelt today in conference with officials at his family residence.

Ray Stephens, member of the Federal Trade Commission, was the first caller. Mr. Roosevelt is considering a reorganization of the commission which administers the securities control law. He also is preparing to establish the Foreign Bond Corporation to protect interests of holders of defaulted securities.

MORATORIUM ASKED
Invent Dally, head of the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York State, came to the summer White House with the trouble of this problem. The situation in New York reached the stage yesterday where Gov. Lehman called for legislation authorizing a one-year moratorium on home foreclosures. The President himself has appealed for moratorium pending operation of the new legislation. He hoped in his conference with Dally to speed up government loans to permit small home owners to pay their borrowings on a better basis.

HUMPHRY TO GO
At the reorganization of the Federal Trade Commission, the President's speculation that William C. Humphrey, a Republican member, is due for departure. He was opposed for confirmation in the Senate by a group of Independent Republicans and Democrats.

Mr. Roosevelt joined with the whole Hillon river valley today in welcoming a break in the terrific heat wave. He took advantage of the cooler weather to go to his desk earlier than usual.

Gallo Opera, 25 Cts. to $1, for Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 3 (AP)—Grand opera at cinema prices will come to Chicago again this fall. Fortune Gallo, impresario of three continents, today announced that beginning Labor Day, he would open a four weeks season of the San Carlo Opera Company at the Auditorium Theater, offering 20 operas at prices ranging from 25 cents to $1.

He said Mary Lewis and Leon Robber of New York's Metropolitan Opera Company, and his Boukays, of Chicago's late Ravinia Company, were already under contract to sing.

Pola Negri Married Again, Paris Hears

Paris, Aug. 3 (ISS)—A report that Pola Negri has remarried was published by the Paris Midi today in a dispatch from Nice. The dispatch named Miss Negri's husband as a "Mr. Moraviek," and stated they were honeymooning in Italy.

FOND THAN IT WOULD BE ON A PIECE OF GREEN PAPER!

The bootleggers gave their Alcoholic blessing to N. R. A. and its price-raising crusade. In New York rye whiskey has gone up $10 a case, in anticipation of a shortage, and it is expected that alcohol will soon sell at $18 a gallon—the price alcohol used as a condiment for "bath tub" gin and other refreshments.

The bootleggers are not able to promise any 25-hour week, because their work is necessarily irregular, but their help is well paid.

'BOBBIE' BLAIR IS MOURNED

Lieut. Robert T. Blair of the Somerville police, known to thousands of children as "Bobbie," is dead following an operation at the Somerville Hospital.

For years Lieut. Blair was assigned to duty at the Somerville Library and there he became known to school children. He was former president of the Somerville Police Relief Association. Lieut. Blair joined the Somerville force June 11, 1913, was promoted to sergeant in 1919 and to lieutenant in 1925. He was born in County Armagh, Ireland, on Nov. 23, 1879. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Blair, and three children, William R., Edward J., and Mrs. Frank McVernore. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon.

New S.O.S. Code Speeds Aid for Ships in Distress

A set of rules for the guidance of ship masters and owners has been formulated by the U. S. Coast Guard to speed up the response of the organization to distress calls. The police points out that radio-equipped vessels should transmit requests for aid on the international distress and calling frequency to any coast guard unit.

Freak Steel Boat to Race Gar Wood

Hythe, Eng., Aug. 3 (INS)—With a newly-built all steel craft resembling the fuselage of an airplane, Robert Scott-Paine, British sportsman, will sail for Detroit this month to challenge Gar Wood for the Harwarth speedboat trophy. It was learned today that Scott-Paine plans to leave England on Aug. 12th or 13th. The trophy race is scheduled to be run on Lake St. Clair in August.

The ship should furnish its name, type and nationality of vessel; position, course and speed, including drift; nature of the trouble, condition of the vessel, wind and sea; number of persons on board and whether or not coast guard aid is needed.

In extreme emergency cases the notice recommends that approximately 10 minutes after broadcast of the S. O. S. message, the vessel transmit slowly on the distress frequency "MO" and over radio call for three minutes. This will aid coast guard vessels and stations to obtain direction finder bearings and plot the position of the distressed ship.

Gold Exported

New York, Aug. 3.—The statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank disclosed exports during the day of $6,504,000 in gold to Czechoslovakia and $5,797,200 to France out of earmarked account.

$1000 STOLEN 'KINGFISH' DONE IN SAFE BREAK IS NEW CLAIM

After finding an employee to post for more than four hours, five armed and masked bandits forced the safe of a factory in Langdon st., Roxbury, early today and escaped with a sum estimated at $1000.

The employee, Fortunato Flaminio, 33, of Brook ave., Roxbury, was found in a state of collapse when Miss Florence McDermott, 21, of Clifton st., Roxbury, reported for work at 8 a. m.

Flaminio, who was tied by his legs and arms to the post, told police he shouted for help continually from the time the bandits left the plant four hours before. The five surprised him while he was at work as a sorter for the New England Co., occupants of the second floor of the building.

New Orleans, Aug. 3 (INS)—The once-powerful political kingdom of Senator Huey "Kingfish" Long is crumbling, and if an election were held tomorrow, the man who has been virtual dictator of Louisiana for many years would go down to defeat by a 75,000-vote margin.

This was the claim of Francis Williams, member of the Louisiana Public Service Commission and one of the leaders of the forces that have fought the "Kingfish" for the "Crawfish" as they call him now—since 1925.

Wholehearted desertions from the ranks of Long's followers are hamstringing the "Kingfish," who suffered a trip-hammer blow at the hands of his enemies when discrepancies were shown in six ballot boxes used in the November election, according to Williams.

State Horseshoe

This contest has been sanctioned by the National Horseshoe Pitching Association of the United States. It is for all contestants between 12 and 18 years of age. Entries can be made on the grounds before the qualifying rounds, which start at 2 o'clock.

California Sets
Death in Kidnap

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 3.—Gov. James Rolph, Jr., signed two bills which are designed to make kidnapping unprofitable in California. One established a $10,000 state reward fund, the other provides the death penalty or life imprisonment without parole, at the discretion of the jury. The new laws become effective 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature, July 26.

DISABLED BOAT STILL MISSING

After searching the seas off Highland Light, Cape Cod, throughout the night, the coastguard patrol boat Dix wirelessed Boston, shortly before noon today, that no trace had been found of the disabled Gloucester fishing schooner, Magellan, and her crew of ten.

The Magellan, an auxiliary of 78 tons, is not equipped with wireless. Her condition was reported to Coastguard headquarters by another fishing schooner, the Edith L. Boudreau.

WOMAN'S CAPSULE COUP

Jessie's Saddest Days Revived

WOMAN'S "Just Silly People." Says Jessie, Watching Crowd

'NEVER' SHEER HIS BODY, SHE SOBS TO BODY

pretending and rather lively lip as she sat up, the surprised answers and explanations even before the questions had been completed.

And at the end of every answer, there seemed always to be two unspoken words—words always in her mind, "So there."

She gave a first testimony a dash of the state's emotion, that her husband's body had been moved before she "found it" in the hallway of their home for some days before she had been completed.

And she gave her explanation of the state's version, stating that she bought capsules—evidence that followed the state's bid, Costello died of a capsule-laden capsule.

"Did you in and was never that body?" she was asked.

"No," she said, "I never saw that body."

She had bought capsules from George Blum, of Boston, who was a witness, she admitted, but she had bought them from herself. She bought them, she said, for Mrs. Blum, Blum's friend, who was with her, and the purchase was made a year ago last March, and four months before Costello died, she said.

State Grants Defense Witness Security

Mrs. Blum, unannounced by the defense as a witness, was taken from the witness stand in the district attorney's office, a procedure characterized by Defense Attorney, Francis E. Rafter as an outrage.

"The importance of her testimony to the state is obvious," he said, "but the state's interest in her is not so much for herself as for her husband, who is the state's witness."

He said that the state's interest in her is not so much for herself as for her husband, who is the state's witness.

AT SALEM COURT

CRYING FOR LOVE OF "BILL"

Jessie Barnett Costello today began her second day on the witness stand in Salem court, defending herself against the state's charge of first degree murder. But her thoughts were not so much for herself as for her husband, who is the state's witness.

And she gave her explanation of the state's version, stating that she bought capsules—evidence that followed the state's bid, Costello died of a capsule-laden capsule.

"Did you in and was never that body?" she was asked.

Love in a Cottage

The windows were all open, but it made no difference. The heat was stifling. Wherever slight breeze there may have been was coming in the kitchen window. So Mildred sat there most of the afternoon with her elbows on the sill and her chin tucked in her hands.

She gazed out over the expanse of dirty backyards and the mass of clothes lines. From the street came the sound of honking cabs and noisy trucks, and the rumble of the "B" trains. And Mildred thought: I hope I never see this place again.

She had thought that for a time. First she had been married to a man who had been in the army and who, as a result, was a little odd. And then she had been married to a man who was a little odder still. And now she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

Two distinct parts of the last day's life, which consisted of eating, working, worrying, and fighting with a narrow-minded father, the second part was the night life which consisted of going to bed and getting up again in the morning and going to work again in the afternoon.

So, with an outlook like that, you can blame Mildred for not being able to see the bright side of things. And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still. And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still. And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still. And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still. And so, when she was married to a man who was a little odder still, she was married to a man who was a little odder still.

What Kind of Streets?

PORTLAND CEMENT stops this hole in the motorist's pocket

Streets that are less than concrete put an extra burden on every motorist. Every delivery truck using them. For the sake of the motorist, the concrete that is the material of the modern street is the material of the modern street.

CONCRETE—BRINGS WORK TO MEN—BEAUTY TO THE STREET—SAVINGS TO EVERY MOTORIST

Now, for the first time, Federal Funds will be available through your State Highway Department for paving arterial streets. The government provides for this with no burden to the property owner or city in its direct grant to states of road building funds.

CONCRETE meets every government specification—that the improvement be permanent—that it be substantially built of a type that will give men work.

CONCRETE does that—and gives you far more.

It gives you:

Streets that cost far less to maintain than any other type.

Streets that cost less to drive over—saving on tire wear, gasoline, repair bills and depreciation for every mile you drive.

Streets that improve the appearance and the property values of the neighborhood.

Insist on CONCRETE for your streets—get the most and best street for the money—and the maximum employment for labor!

By Betty Alden

THE PATRONESS BALL ON THE PROMENADE
Deck of the Hotel Rockmere last evening was a delightful affair... hundreds of Fair Things awayed in the arms of their masculine escorts under a summer moon to the strains of Joe Holmes and his Foxtrot Privaters...

Marblehead harbor dreamed under the stars... little ships rode on the silver waves like ghosts in the velvety night... lights gleamed across the bay in the windows of summer cottages half hidden among the trees... a perfect setting for a mid-summer dance...

On the promenade, bright with colored lights, we glimpsed Mrs. "Jimmy" Roosevelt in one of the new "cushy" frocks of plaid gingham red and white... the beautiful Betty Cushing is still a belle on the dance floor as in her debutante days... she was surrounded by swains among them the popular Paul Rust... newly elected president of the Marblehead Club, and John Smith at least of it was... John Smith is a handsome, tall, full and handsome, with luminous dark eyes...

ABBY BEVERIDGE It was on Mr. Rust's yacht, the Ambrack II, that our President and his sons took what will be a historical vacation a few weeks ago... Pretty dark-haired Margo Emerson was in the party... wearing a smart printed silk on long, slim hips... Margo Emerson was presented a couple of seasons ago, you remember and is still a headliner... Mrs. Roosevelt is one of the patronesses of these popular dances with Mrs. B. Devereaux Barker of Marblehead, Mrs. Ransom Hodges, Mrs. Paul Gring, Mrs. Alva P. Thompson, Mrs. Raymond Brackett, Mrs. Paul D. Rust, Jr., all of this town, pleasant resort, with Mrs. Abby Beveridge of Beverly Farms, Mrs. Daniel Newham of Newton, Mrs. Victor W. Collier of Hopdale, Mrs. Eben S. Draper of Hopdale and Mrs. Carroll Swan of Brookline...

Mrs. John Upton in White Gown
MR. AND MRS. CARLTON DAVENPORT enjoyed the evening, bringing a party of twenty guests who were on the deck for dinner... among their party were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perkins (Beth Spofford) in a cool green frock... Miss Gertrude Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. John Upton, very smart in all-white gown which was very becoming to her French beauty... Mrs. Whittemore, the 3d, in a maroon lace dress which suited her brunette coloring perfectly...

In a love of a gown was Mrs. Paul Carter, black satin skirt and white satin bodice which one must have a de-vine figure to wear... The good-looking Paul Fitzpatrick danced with his pretty wife, who was attired in an ice-blue chiffon, cool and misty in the dim lights... And we saw Mrs. Hamilton Pretaux in one of those soft flower printed satins so wonderfully chic this summer...

Wears Dainty White Organdy Gown
MRS. CARLETON DAVENPORT wore a "sweet and girlish" white organdy... a fashion we hope will stay in forever... The good-looking husband of Lubby Brackett, George Noble Ricker, was dancing with the Fair Things, very much the proud father of a few weeks' son, George Noble Ricker, Jr., which made grandpapa of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brackett, popular host and hostess of the Hotel Rockmere...

Everyone down on the shore is all anticipation for the coming week-end events of the season... Marblehead waters will be swarming with big and little craft for the big social event of the season when yachts from far and near accept the challenge of their contemporaries and pray for fair breezes... we'll be seeing you there on Monday...

Charles Brooks Perkins on Cruise
MR. AND MRS. CHARLES BROOKS PERKINS, parents of the popular Mrs. C. Terry Collek, and their son, Plevad are sailing Saturday from New York on the Calamander of the United Fruit Line for a West Indies cruise... Mr. and Mrs. Perkins gave up their annual visit to Italy and the Riviera this season... could be in a spirit of patriotism to spend some American dollars in American waters...

Appropos of which we have received a letter from a friend in France who relates that Ray Parce and his companions are about to visit to... the thrills of the Frenchman has taken this going off the 20 d standard around and American dollars are only paying half of what they did a few months ago... she says the fare from Cherbourg to Paris used to be $8.00 and is now $22.50 and hotel rates and other necessary expenditures for the American have jumped to alarming proportions...

In England and the Continent are different... whereas the American dollar brings fifty cents in exchange, hotel rates and railroad fares have been reduced to meet the situation, so that the tourist does not feel the change so much... This will undoubtedly mean more travel in England and Ireland and less on the Continent from now on, or until the Europeans feel the pinch of no easy American money in live on...

One of the important events of this week is the Navy Ball tonight at the Bar Harbor Club for the officers of the visiting warships anchored in the harbor, the U. S. S. Indianapolis, and H. M. S. Danae and H. M. S. Norfolk... many dinner parties are being given beforehand... Mrs. Peter Palmer, 3d (Rose Motwin) is staying with her husband's parents and was seen at the weekly dance at the club on Saturday night.

Chatty Notes of Social Circles
MRS. CHARLES A. COOK of Denver, a member of the board of managers of the North Shore Yacht Club, has been named to the committee in charge of the Thrift Shop in Salem... announces that this shop will be open during the summer months on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 9:30 to 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Alice Quinby will have charge of the shop for the month of August... BOOKS--And Other Things

By Charles Hanson Towne

The other evening, up in Connecticut, I was invited to dine at a country house twelve miles from where I live, and thought, of course, nothing at all of the distance. But on the way home, in the scented darkness of lonely back roads, I found myself thinking of the time, not so many years ago, when it would have been impossible to accept such an invitation--when, as a matter of fact, such an invitation could not have been given...

For when I was a lad and spent a year in the country, my wife's family died out, if at all, on a hillside where she lived a mile away from me... When we had dinner we drove the team not more than five or six miles to the house where the dinner was to be held... I had to consider the return trip; and I had to consider the return trip; and I had to consider the return trip... I had to consider the return trip; and I had to consider the return trip...

THIS IS LIFE

Nature in the Raw a Headache;
in Colored Specs, Sublime

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

I HAVE DISCOVERED that the old fable of the Magic Spectacles is true, that the truth is in the glasses that we all see things too much as they are. I am considering whether a general prescription for glasses might not be better for all of us than any number of cures.

For the first time in my life I found in wearing colored glasses in the sunlight. For the past few days the glare has been terrific. The sunlight has been so intense that it has seemed to drain all the color out of the world. A white sky, a bluish sea, brown sands intolerable in their whiteness. Even the grass repels the eye. In city as well as in country, Tremont as the other afternoon at 3 o'clock actually hurt the eyes. On the pavement, reflected from the walls of buildings, on women's white dresses, everywhere the painful glare. Nature in the raw gives you a headache.

So I was pressed into a pair of these glasses that clip on over my regular spectacles, without which I would be blind as the proverbial bat. They are not yellow or amber, which turns everything to a nauseous, mustard-like yellow, as if the entire creation had come down with jaundice. Nor are they blue, that turns the world to a sickly, mournful indigo, like a preliminary dress rehearsal for the way the universe will look just before the last judgment. Neither of these can put heart into mankind.

All Things Beautiful, Even People

They are a palish green. And yet not exactly green. Not grass green, I mean. There is some yellow in them, of course, but not enough to be obnoxious. There is apparently very little blue, though of course there must be some, if there is to be green. I can't make up my mind about the red. When it comes to optics I am a tyro, and I remember with satisfaction that even the great Fourier, after years of study trying to improve Newton's theories of light, only succeeded in proving himself triumphantly wrong.

So I do not dogmatize. I merely say that these glasses do draw all the dreadful light of reality out of the world, leaving it an ineffably restful and beautiful place for people with tired eyes and twitching nerves. What happens scientifically I do not know. I can only attempt to describe the results.

The world becomes a place of warm, soft, luscious tones, as if colored by a cunning stage painter—like the late Urban—and lighted by a wizard, like Mr. Peever of Boston. The sea loses its sickly monotonous blue glare and becomes infinitely varied in blue and green and brown. Grass and foliage take on a deeper, richer hue, without losing their life and pleasant to the aesthetic sense. And the flowers, which lose their color in strong sunlight, receive it again a hundred fold.

But the chief effect is on human beings. Suddenly new spokes of the horror implied by the words "a white man." Visualize the phrase literally and you can see that it is horrible. Well, the actuality is not far from that when you see upon the beach men and women from long months' sojourn in the city, now exposed for the first time in bathing suits under the white glare of noon. They are actually, horribly white, unhealthy looking, like things that live in the darkness under decaying tree trunks. As we are told, George Moore used to look.

Restful, Happy World of Gentle Hue

Seen through the glasses their bodies are warm ivory, healthy looking, attractive, part of a world grown warmer in tone. And the habitues of the beach, who have already acquired something of a tan—with or without the aid of olive oil—look like those beautiful people of the Pacific we see in the films, brown and burnished and heroic. The whole human race grows rosy, and even the loud, crude, garish colors of the bathing suits soften to exquisite sunset colors—all against a stretch of beach sand no longer painfully white but yellow as Ariel's yellow sands, golden, orange, tawny—transfigured.

Believe it or not. Slip on these glasses and this white, realistic world of ours becomes a place of romance, the sort of place for which Stevenson voyaged the South Seas seeking, infinitely more healthy to look upon, more hopeful, happier. And restful no end.

I suggest putting the entire population in such glasses. They are good for me. Why shouldn't they be good for everybody? There is only one drawback. The sky always looks a little as if it is going to be a thunderstorm. But the relief on the eyes more than makes up for that. Of course, on a dark day, you do need them. But on a dark day it is always just as well to look facts in the face. It is on the bright days you need to escape from reality.

Traditional speech would have us believe that "rose colored" glasses give the colors of the world and that green is the color of jealousy. Do not believe tradition. Have you ever looked through red glass? Horrible! All color obliterated save a dull fiery glow such as poured through the windows in that last and horrible room where Poe's Red Death staged his tragic masque.

Glasses Like Roosevelt Must Wear

A world wearing rose-colored glasses all the time would go mad with jealousy. The color of blood, the color of Hell, the color that men see when they lose control of themselves and kill.

But green is the color of God's earth, and if it is also the color of jealousy then the fault lies in our eyes and not in the spectacles we look through.

I think, perhaps, that President Roosevelt habitually wears my kind of spectacles, taking them off to be photographed, of course. But the world he sees strikes me as exactly the same kind of brave new world I see when I put on the glasses—a fair-colored, hopeful world where men and women look as if they were capable of accomplishing all difficult things, not the hopeless, washed-out humanity we see with the naked eye, but a browner, ruddier, fairer race in a more beautiful world, ready to tackle anything and to see it through.

It may not be feasible to put the entire race into these glasses. But when Congress meets again, it might at least be practicable to see that every Representative and every Senator had a pair ordered on his name, not at the season of election but at the time that that worked—as I am sure it would work—we might begin to extend the beneficent work.

Some evening I am going to try wearing them to the movies. For once it would be nice to see a film actor or actress looking really romantic!

U. S. G. A. QUALIFYING ROUND PAIRINGS FACE BIG REVISION

N. E. AGES NEED COMPETITION IN TEST PLAY

By BILL GRIMES

Because of the influence of some of the pairings for the qualifying rounds of the United States amateur championship next Tuesday at the Blue Hills Country Club, Herbert Jones, president of the U. S. G. A., in all probability will revise the list.

It was customary, until this year for the U. S. G. A. to send the New England entries to Raynor M. Gardiner, secretary of the U. S. G. A., before releasing the pairings for publication. Without consulting any local authority, even President Jones, the U. S. G. A. assumed considerable responsibility by pairing the field this year.

And as a result some of the players have legitimate grounds for complaint.

STARS MAY FALL

With almost two years competing for only ten places, it is fatal for any star to be paired with a "hacker" or a player who has entered for the sole purpose of saying that he played in a qualifying round of a national amateur championship.

To be perfectly candid there are only about 16 players of the 35 who have any chance to play in a national amateur championship qualifying round.

The "tourists" offer as an excuse that they are playing for the experience. Fine, but to what use will they be able to apply this experience? As golfers, they are among any place. So why then is it in the effort of the U. S. G. A. to let the tourists—

It would be to the advantage of themselves and the players who have a chance to make the grade if the "tourists" restricted their search for experience to open tournaments.

STARTING TO BOWL 'EM OVER

Jack Sharkey, summering at Green Hill.

Sharkey, knocks down the candlepins just as he promises to knock down King Levinsky in his comeback campaign, which starts Sept. 6 or 7 at the World's Fair in Chicago.

Sharkey-Levinsky Imbroglio Strikes Promotional Snag

By GEORGE EDWOOD

Boxing, as the poetry folks said of true love, never did run smooth.

Sharkey, for instance has found up ahead of the contemporary as a prize between Jack Sharkey and King Levinsky, who are billed to display their fists before the World's Fair crowd in Chicago on September 6.

The Illinois promoter must serve a little promotional war and decide who has first call on the services of the Champion Bill and the ex-fighter before he can get a satisfactory answer.

It seems that a couple of years ago Sharkey connected on a fight in Chicago under the auspices of Mike Mahon, who is now pumping in sporting promotional circles along the Route 1.

Sir Mike doesn't like the idea of Sharkey fighting Levinsky under the banner of promoter Samuels. He is the promoter of the fight, and he is the promoter of the fight, and he is the promoter of the fight.

In the first place, Sharkey's past performance do not warrant his being billed as a national amateur champion. And in the second place, he takes up an amount of time and money every time he comes on the scene and many other talented athletes, that should be put to rest the child who is the champion of the world.

BLANEY N. K. HEADLINER

Jimmy Traverser who was drawn as Bill Blaney, is a prize fighter, but never in his wildest moments did he dream that he would be within the ten foot square of the boxing ring. He is not only one of the favorites to get by the qualification, but he is one of the favorites to get by the qualification, but he is one of the favorites to get by the qualification.

Like Kirov, Jimmy Dolan is making his first start as national champion, and in order to produce his best article of golf he will need plenty of competition and a complete absence of any mental hazards.

If Leo Brown, who is to play with Fred Wright, is playing his game, he will play with credits, he figures, but in the event that he "blows" he might take Wright with him.

Herbert Jones is well posted on the ability of local golfers and will doubtless strengthen matters out in the future the U. S. G. A. will avoid controversy by allowing each district to do its piping.

"Let's Look at the Records"

OPEN LETTER TO ATTORNEY GENERAL

JOSEPH R. WARNER:

As chief of the State's legal department and adviser to the forthcoming legislative investigation of crime and the police department of Boston you will doubtless require in your work the records of the real racket kings of Boston.

Governor Bay has not succeeded in getting from the police department the names of the real leaders of the underworld. The list he got was composed mostly of small fry and petty offenders.

To help you in your investigation the Boston Evening American will present for your study each day the record of a man whose name stands high up in the list of public enemies and whose name has been withheld from the governor by the police department.

The record of each of these men is available at police headquarters.

NUMBER 15
Looking up the records of the public enemy and as far as criminal records are concerned, we find not a single record under either of the names that he is popularly known as, no sign of a record, not even an arrest.

But you know who he is, Mr. Warner. That is, through the use of state police records, the possessor of official documents that bear the seal of Massachusetts. And I believe that from your office if they have performed their duty, they have given over to you reports that bear with his criminal record.

He is the payoff man in the picture of the street, the bag man of our underworld. He is the man that demands a "piece" of just about every speakeasy in the downtown area, on the supposition that he is collecting for certain public officials. He is the kind that should be labeled PUBLIC ENEMY.

Daily True Story

Matter of Contract

HOOPER and DELMAR, feminine half of the vaudeville team of Hooper and Delmar, was slumped despondently upon the day-report. She smiled gently as she dashed her eyes with an infinitesimal handkerchief.

George Hooper, her partner and husband, stood before her, the window, coming sight to himself.

"I'm just the kind of luck that's been dragging on my steps for 10 years," he said. "For nine of ten we felt that we could catch a wife, work anywhere, and now we're signed up for 10 that we're to fill. It's a matter of contract."

He said this with a smile, his head and neck tilted back. He hoped it wouldn't sound like a boast, but it did. He thought his head and neck tilted back.

"I wouldn't have been so tough if this engagement brought that much more work and with less. If they didn't delay a week before sending this telegram we'd be on our way."

"I'm not a quitter," he said. "You see, the contract and the money people are at odds. Both are at each other's throat all the time. It's been a real struggle, standing. Marjorie, general manager of the show, used to be the route of circuit, when the film people grabbed him. And it's been a knockdown and drag-out fight between us."

SPORTS DEPARTMENT

(Jersey, Ia. Echo)
Last Sunday Elma played Jerico, but the boys was too much for the Glante. Elma was fouled too much with 32 per cent. They had too much pop. The score was 5 to 2 in favor of Elma.

Next Tuesday Jerico will play the Bassett brown hats at Alta. Bassett and Bassett will get a trimming.

The writer makes the suggestion that uniforms should be bought for the Jerico Glante and if necessary a dance be given in one of the local J.ras.

FRISBY IS GRACEFUL IN TRAVAIL

WASHINGTON MONUMENT—Making good his threat to explode a bombshell that would "rend asunder society's tinsel and sham," Congressman Horace Frisby vowed his wife yesterday and accused his wife of infidelity during the Spanish-American War.

"At a time," said Frisby, "when the nation, as one man, stood ready to free Cuban slaves, and I was working like a horse as an unpaid bookkeeper in my father's livery stable, I never suspected that the woman I would some day honor was having an affair with sailors."

Frisby turned the above photo over and over. "The woman," he said, "is Mrs. Frisby—and although she claims that I have been that up, and Mrs. Frisby, while permitted to remain in my stable, will have to get her pin money from that dough she so conveniently calls her second cousin. I will try to laugh and so she always, but something inside of me is broke beyond repair. I will never marry again for looks."
